Technical Manager I (then Operations Director)	BBC Wales, Cardiff Studio and O.B.'s	Spring 1982-Feb.1996

March 1996 to present day

I am now working as a freelance Lighting Director and Lighting Training Consultant from my home base. I have produced extensive handout material based on my own experience over the years which are mostly computer based and can be easily modified to reflect the needs of a particular training course.

I also have a large collection of photographs of my work with notes to explain the nature of the lighting scenarios depicted. I keep up to date with I.T. and have the ability to construct handouts with pictures of the students' own work whilst on location using a laptop computer and digital camera. Training consultancy work is highlighted below.

Programme Credits include:

- Kick up the Eighties (BBC Scotland 1981)
